

Adult Teaching Curriculum

Choosing what curriculum to use can be a difficult challenge. Selecting something that is biblically sound, addresses the current challenges your audience is experiencing, and aligns with your teaching style is a daunting task. The below list of authors has been put together by the elders at Cornerstone to help assist you in this task.

Recommended Bible Study Publishers and Authors

- 9 Marks Material
- Regular Baptist Press
- Answers in Genesis
- Randy Alcorn
- Kay Arthur
- Allistair Begg
- Jerry Bridges
- D.A. Carson
- Ray Comfort
- Nancy Leigh DeMoss
- Mark Dever
- Sinclair Ferguson
- Kristie Gant
- Greg Gilbert
- Wayne Grudem
- Nancy Guthrie
- Chip Ingram
- Melissa Kruger
- Jonathan Leeman
- John MacArthur
- Wayne Mack
- Al Mohler
- Martha Peace
- David Platt
- John Piper
- JC Ryle
- R.C. Sproul
- Charles Spurgeon
- John Stott
- A.W. Tozer
- Paul David Tripp
- Tedd Tripp
- Jeff Vanderstelt
- Warren Wiersbe

There are many fantastic resources that exist beyond this very small list of authors. If you know of other authors that would be great to include, please let us know so that the list can be expanded. Before using curriculum by an author not listed here, please get approval from an elder first. Please allow 30 days for the elders to evaluate the curriculum. As you evaluate an author, below are some great questions to ask.

- Does the desired resource present sound doctrine?
- Do alternate resources by the author contain questionable content?
- Does the author live and teach a life of total submission to God's commands?
- Who does the author endorse/who endorses the author? Are these individuals of good reputation?